- Education
    - AA, Liberal Arts, Florida Keys Community College, Key West, FL
    - BS, Naval Engineering, US Marine Academy, Kings Point, NY
    - MS, Mechanical Engineering, MIT, Cambridge, MA
    - PhD, Applied Microcomputer Technologies, Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences, Institute of Radioengineering and Electronics, Prague, Czechoslovakia
  - Career Accomplishments:
    - I began Computer Programming at Kings Point. Since that time I've worked on a variety of DEC, IBM and Honeywell Mainframes. I've been involved with microcomputers since the early '80s.
    - In 1983 I founded Caribbean Computers and Computer Maintenance Organization, or CMO of the Keys. Over the years they grew into a full service micro-, mini- and mainframe computer service agency that designed, built, sold, supported, serviced and maintained a wide range of computer hardware and software. In the South Florida market our expertise was computer networking utilizing Novell Netware and Microsoft Windows NT. In 1991 I opened a computer training school, Caribbean Institute, where I often taught classes. We were an early Internet Service Provider.
    - I have 14 software copyrights, including "International Technology Transfer," a pre-Internet multi-site auto-updating database, licensed by the US State Department to 27 countries from 1986-1990 as part of the American pre- and post-cold war trade agreements under Secretary of the Treasury/Secretary of State James Baker and President Ronald Reagan.
    - In 1999 I sold my businesses and real estate and moved to rural Georgia. I continued to develop websites and Internet promotions for business and non-profits.
    - 2002 to 2011 - Trustee and volunteer, Creative Health Institute, Union City, MI. Served as Executive Trustee of the non-profit trust.
      1. Developed training materials, specialized websites and designed, built and maintained an online mail order system with over $250,000 in annual sales of health and fitness books and videos in a micro-niche market.
      2. Developed, produced and wrote articles for multiple newsletters and developed a targeted mailing list of 125,000 subscribers.
      3. Designed, wrote, directed and starred in a 14-episode TV show about health and fitness, "Grassy Roots – Back to the Roots of Healthy Eating."
    - 2011 to 2014 – Director of Operations, Intelligent Fencing Systems, Inc., Tampa, FL.
    - 2014 to 2019 – Online Marketing Director, Friendly Charters, Maui, HI.
    - 2014 to 2023 – Tech support and transaction processing, Tim Gardner Realty, Maui, HI.
    - 2023 to present – Realtor® salesperson with Keller Williams Realty Maui, HI.
